MAKING READY TO GET TREATY TALK STARTED

INDICATIONS THAT THE PRESIDENT MAY TAKE HAND IN GAME AGAIN.

Hitchcock Calls Conference Of Democrats To Decide On Plan Of Procedure Monday.

Washington, Feb. 5. (P)—Plans of the party leaders for resumption of the peace treaty debate began to take form today although it was said there probably would be no definite decision as to exact procedure on either side until the treaty actually is called up for consideration Monday.

Senator Hitchcock, the acting democratic leader, returning to Washington after a week's absence called a party conference for Saturday to consider some of the points likely to be raised when the treaty comes back to the senate floor. On the republican side there were numerous conferences.

Indications today that the influence of President Wilson might again be felt developed in a number of interesting possibilities. It became known that he had been in communication indirectly with some democratic senators and the republicans heard a report, which Senator Hitchcock declined to discuss that a letter setting forth the executive's views on compromise reservations had been sent to the democratic leader. The White House also took notice of the recently published letter of Viscount Grey, former British ambassador to the United States, in regard to reservations, officials close to the president indicating unofficially that they felt the ordinary diplomatic courtesies would have suggested that this government be consulted before such a document was made public. While taking the position that they did not care to specifically deny them, White House officials said there was no foundation in fact for reports that the president knew of the Grey letter prior to its publication.

Will Bob Up In Debate.
Among senators the Grey letter continued a subject of widespread discussion apparently forecasting that it would play a prominent part in next week's debate.

Although there has been no formal agreement between republican and democratic leaders regarding the mechanical progress of getting the treaty back before the senate it is expected on both sides that when it is called up it will be referred to the foreign relations committee which immediately will report without any attempt to frame reservations. This step, it was explained, will be merely a technical one in order to get the treaty out from under the cloture attached to it before it failed of ratification in November.

When the committee reports Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader will move the adoption of reservations which are yet to be decided on by the republican senators. He may present the original republican reservations adopted at the last session of congress, but some of his advisers want him to submit in their place the modified reservations which were adopted by the disrupted bi-partisan compromise committee.

On the democratic side, it is said, the procedure will not be determined until the plan of the republicans is revealed although some points may be settled at Saturday's meeting. The reservations of the compromise committee, it is expected will in any case form the basis of the democratic program.

No Limit On Talk.
Unless present indications fail the treaty debate will begin without any limitation on debate. The question of a modified cloture was taken up today at a meeting of the rules committee but the only action was reference of the whole subject to a committee which does not expect to act until after consideration of the treaty is well under way. If the debate runs away with the leaders, however, it is believed that some effort will be made later to get a cloture.

In discussing the letter of Viscount Grey Senator Hitchcock revealed that he had talked over the question of reservations with the British statesman before the latter's departure from this country. The senator said that most of the conversation related, however, to the reservation regarding voting power in the league. Viscount Grey indicating that it would be acceptable to a committee which does not expect to bring strong protests from the colonial governments.

"Lord Grey was very careful in his conversation concerning the

TAYLOR TELLS MINE PROBERS STRIKES COST

PRES. LEWIS TAKES EXCEPTION TO TERM "WILDCAT" USED BY THE OPERATOR.

Miners Of Southwest Want Uniformity Of Wages And Of Working Conditions.

Washington, Feb. 5. (P)—The case of the bituminous coal industry of the five states comprising the southwestern field was laid before the coal strike settlement commission today by representatives of the operators and of the United Mine Workers in the districts involved.

As spokesmen for all operators in the field, H. N. Taylor of Kansas City president of the National Coal Association launched an attack on what he described as the "black and rotten record" of union leadership in the southwestern mines that precipitated a controversy between himself and John Lewis, acting president of the mine workers.

Union heads have inflicted "economic losses and even poverty upon the willing workers in the mines" by calling "useless strikes" mostly of a "wildcat variety," Mr. Taylor declared. There were 364 strikes in the Kansas district alone in 1918, which cost the miners in lost wages $1,644,000, he added.

Mr. Lewis took exception to Mr. Taylor's term of "wildcat" strikes and declared the record should be cleared as to the precise connotation of "wildcat" strikes as used by Mr. Taylor.

"Perhaps Mr. Taylor has used the term loosely," he said. "I would state that 'wildcat' as accepted in the parlance of labor circles and I believe elsewhere, is properly a term to be applied only to unauthorized irresponsible walkouts called in violation of contract agreements.

Mr. Taylor has laid the responsibility for the strikes upon the union heads. I think the inconsistency should be cleared."

Mr. Taylor rejoined that as the strikes had been called in spite of supposedly strike-proof contracts he still believed he was right in his choice of terms. He added that he believed the miners in the southwestern field did not need an increased wage scale as much as "an unimpaired opportunity for work," the lack of which "could not in justice be balanced against the present scale."

Representatives of the mine workers' unions presented a number of demands designated primarily to place wages and working conditions on uniform level within the field. Chief among the demands were that the cost of moving loaded and empty cars to and from the working base be assumed by the operators of all mines and that miners be paid for time lost by the rising of water in the mines.

SAY INTERNATIONAL COURT MIGHT TRY HUN CRIMINALS

London, Feb. 5. (P)—The Manchester Guardian, discussing the return to Berlin of Baron Leersner and the complications which have arisen over the extradition of German war criminals, suggests a possible issue of the dilemma, trial by "the permanent court of international justice" provided for in Article 14 of the peace treaty or a court internationally established at The Hague.

The Daily Chronicle, which is supposed to reflect Premier Lloyd George's views, agrees that the allies have thrown a powerful lever for the exertion of pressure on Germany in permitting German prisoners in France to be repatriated.

TEXAN WITH BIG ROLL WENT TO NEW YORK AND NOW CAN'T BE FOUND

New York, Feb. 5. (P)—Search was begun by the police today for Edward Best, former deputy sheriff of Beaumont, Tex., who is believed by his son to have met with foul play. The son, L. D. Best told the police that his father had left home October 12 last with $5,000 to discuss with lawyers in New York claims by another man to land that he had bought in Louisiana. He checked out at a hotel here December 7 and has not been heard from since.

treaty and all proposed reservations while in this country. Senator Hitchcock added "He said the only reservation which concerned his country directly was that which declared that the United States would not be bound by any decision or election in which the colonies cast separate votes. This reservation did not affect the mother country but he thought the colonies might strongly object at having their voting right thus attacked."

ATLANTIC GALE GRIPS THE EAST

NEW YORK FACES FUEL FAMINE WHICH WOULD STOP ALL TRAFFIC LINES.

Snow Drifts On Central Road 15 To 18 Feet And Trains Are Running Hours Behind.

New York, Feb. 5. (P)—Huge waves rolled up by a 50 mile gale were still sweeping the north Atlantic coast tonight while cities and towns along the shore were trying with indifferent success to dig themselves out of the deepest snow drifts of years. Damage done by the sea to New Jersey and Long Island coasts was estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Shipping remained at anchor or moved with the utmost caution. In the landlocked waterways around New York huge ice floes menaced navigation. The steamer Maine of the New England Steamship Company was driven ashore on the north end of Long Island and four other Sound liners were reported creeping along through fields of ice The Maine which carried five passengers and a crew of 70, was reported in no immediate danger.

Cold, snow, ice and high seas have made it almost impossible to transport coal from the tide water sea to the city. The city faces a fuel famine which will force all its transportation lines to suspend operation unless the weather moderates sufficiently. While mountains seas were battering the coast the highest tide ever recorded in New York harbor caused floods along the Hudson and Harlem rivers. Ferry houses on the New York and New Jersey sides of the Hudson were flooded and water from Erie terminal dripped into the Hudson tubes at Jersey City.

Two score big snow plows were at work today on the New York Central between New York and Buffalo. Snow drifted from 15 to 18 feet in some of the big cuts. Through trains from all directions were running hours late. Suburban traffic was seriously impeded.

Sea freight, long a target for the waves, suffers more than any of the other northern New Jersey coast resorts. It was estimated that the high tide and heavy seas had done $250,000 damage to bulk head streets and residences there. A recently completed bulkhead saved the main residence part of the town.

WILL MAKE LANDLORDS KEEP TENANTS WARM

St. Louis, Feb. 5. (P)—Property owners under contract to furnish heat to tenants, will be subject to a fine of from $5 to $50 for failure to maintain a minimum temperature of 70 degrees from 7 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. and sixty degrees during the evening hours, according to an ordinance passed by the board of aldermen here today. The ordinance becomes effective immediately and will be in force from October to March inclusive of each year.

BATTLE IN PINE BLUFF WHEN NEGRO MURDERER ALSO KILLS OFFICER

Pine Bluff, Ark., Feb. 5. (P)—City Detective C. C. Lynn, Mrs. Sam Soltz and a negro named "Memphis Slim" were killed and seven were shot, late today when George Vicks, negro, after shooting "Memphis Slim" and Lynn barricaded himself in a house near the heart of the business district and held off a posse of several hundred men for over three hours.

The negro finally was slain by possemen's bullets after the house had been burned to the ground and the dead body was dragged through the streets of Pine Bluff by a mob of several hundred men and boys.

The negro late this afternoon killed "Memphis Slim," Lynn went to his house to arrest him and was met with the shot which killed him. Possemen were then summoned and peppered the house with rifle and shot guns until dark. An attempt was made to dynamite the building but this failed and then the building was set on fire. The entire superstructure was burned before Vicks ventured out. A few moments before he came out he fired several times into a crowd of several thousand which had gathered. Firing became general and in the shooting seven were hit. Then Vicks burst forth and was immediately shot down. A half hundred shots entered his body. The crowd seized the limp form and dragged it into the city, stopping only when Sheriff Curran Nichols mounted a light post and requested them to disperse. Mrs. Soltz was hit by a stray bullet and died tonight at a hospital.

PERSHING IN HOUSTON SAYS SEND BACK HOME ALL UNAMERICANIZED

Houston, Tex., Feb. 5. (P)—General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American armies in France was royally welcomed in Houston Thursday. Thousands lined the streets and thronged every place he was scheduled to be and all received the full radiance of that famous "Pershing smile."

Expressing himself as in favor of deportation of alien agitators, and those foreigners who demanded America protection without living up to American ideals General Pershing talked to more than 7,000 people who gathered at the city auditorium and launched the spirit of patriotism which made victory possible.

"And if there are those agitators," the general said "who decline or refuse to comply with the requirements in this regard" * * * "I for one, am in favor of sending them back to where they came from."

"We must be prepared for another war, though I hope and pray it may never come. To be unprepared for what might arise is unfair to the young men of this country, unjust to send them against trained troops.

CEASE COTTON IMPORTATION

DECISION HAS NO PRECEDENT IN HISTORY OF THE LANCASHIRE INDUSTRY

Spinnners Say Situation Created By Fall In Exchange Is Most Serious One

London, Feb. 5. (P)—The situation created by the decision of the cotton importers to cease importations is unprecedented in the history of the Lancashire trade but, although it is admitted to be serious, it is asserted that there is no cause for anxiety.

According to the figures printed here the stocks of American cotton total 766,534 bales with an additional 438,000 bales on the sea. Aside from these stocks, the spinners are said to hold considerable quantities, probably enough to keep the mills going two or three weeks.

Sir Charles Mac Ara former president of the Master Cotton Spinners' Association in an interview in the Daily Mail says the problem is very serious.

"If importation is stopped for a considerable time the cotton industry must also cease," he asserts. "The government ought to move energetically."

The Mail quotes T. W. Cook, former president of the Liverpool Cotton Association, as saying that the stock of American cotton on hand would carry on trade for a considerable time. He cited the re-exportation of American cotton at a profit to the spinner on this side as showing that the Liverpool market today is the cheapest in the world and pointed out that although the low exchanges were against the exporters it favors exporters of finished goods, which under the American product in its own market.

MOTION PICTURE ACTOR KILLED IN PLANE FALL

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 5. (P)—Earl Burgess, a motion picture actor, was killed here today when he fell seven hundred feet from an airplane on which he was performing in the making of a comedy.

The actor was to cast off a dummy from the plane but in some manner attempting this he fell himself. The camera man and director thought the falling body was the dummy and continued photographing. They did not discover the mistake until they went to remove the supposed dummy from telephone wires where it had alighted, and discovered that it was Burgess' body.

Burgess had been employed in motion picture work ten years. He was said to have been the first man to make a successful parachute jump from an airplane.

WILSON NAVAL PLANS HALTED U-BOAT PERIL

DANIELS SPEECH SHOWS PRESIDENT WAS REAL FORCE IN DIRECTING NAVY

Cummings Accepts Republican Gage On Peace Treaty Predicting Victory Will Be Sure

New York, Feb. 5. (P)—President Wilson was given credit here tonight by Secretary Daniels, speaking at the democratic club dinner to National Chairman Homer S. Cummings, for having seen the necessity of shutting German submarines off theseas as the only effective method of combating them before naval staffs "on either side of the water" moved to that end.

"You must shut up the horns in their nest," the president was quoted by Mr. Daniels as having said in a quarterdeck speech to officers of the battleship Pennsylvania early in the war, "for you can never end the submarine peril if you let them out and then have to devote yourselves to chasing them all over the ocean."

"The barrage finally built across the North sea," Mr. Daniels said, "was the American navy's answer to the president's counsel. It was proposed by Admiral Benson and Admiral Mayo, by the general board, by the secretary of the navy and by the president. It was the greatest constructive naval measure of effectiveness in the whole war. It was a factor both in destroying the morale of the German navy and in its deadly destruction of submarines."

President Wilson had also pointed out before naval staffs had reached that conclusion Mr. Daniels said, "that the only way to most surely safeguard merchant ships was to send them in convoys protected by armed ships."

Hyphenated Politics

The secretary attacked the record of congress since 1918 when "dishonest appeal to hyphenated politics enabled the republicans to elect a majority of this congress," and declared the people had "already found they got a gold brick." That record he characterized as certain to defeat the republican party next November.

"It is certain that the democrats will have the wisdom to go forward and nominate a great leader who is himself a platform of constructive legislation."

Mr. Daniels said he believed that "league of nations such as that proposed in the treaty would enable the world to maintain peace without competitive naval building but that without such a league American duty was as plain as a pike staff."

He quoted President Wilson's statement in 1916 that the navy should be "incomparably the most adequate navy in the world," and added that none of the present American building programs would be delayed or abandoned.

League Or Big Navy

"We are to have a league of nations with America making as large a contribution as any other country to the mobile police force afloat," he said, "or we are to have a navy incomparable, the most adequate navy in the world. Which is it to be? It must be one or the other."

Reviewing the history of the merchant marine through "forty years of republican neglect and indifference," the naval secretary said it was not until President Wilson's first inauguration when a shipping bill was introduced in 1914 by Representative Alexander now secretary of commerce, that a "constructive measure to give America a merchant marine with administrative backing" had been presented.

"This new merchant marine is in jeopardy again," he said. "Unless the people register their high resolve never again to let American be dependent upon foreign bottoms, this republican congress will starve the merchant marine down and oblige the side out of which Woodrow Wilson pulled it against republican opposition and hostility."

CUMMINGS DEFENDS THE ADMINISTRATION WHILE PLAYING REPUBLICANS

New York, Feb. 5. (P)—Democratic leaders in the senate have stood for unqualified ratification of the treaty of peace, Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the democratic national committee, declared tonight at the testimonial dinner given him by the national democratic club. When that "became impossible," he added, "it stood for such reservations as would preserve the spirit of the document and make its resubmission unnecessary."

"If republican leadership," he continued, "blind to overwhelming necessity for an honorable and speedy peace, drive this issue ultimately into the arena of politics, the democratic party will unflinchingly take up the gauge of battle. Upon that issue we shall have the support of

Got Unexpected Chance To Talk At Cummings Dinner and Used It To the Limit

New York Feb. 5. (P)—Prohibition and the Sims-Daniels controversy were injected tonight into the testimonial dinner given here to Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the democratic national committee, at which Secretary Daniels was the principal speaker. One thousand invitations had been issued to the banquet, which was attended by prominent democrats from all parts of the country.

The prohibition issue was brought into the proceedings by Governors Edwards of New Jersey and Smith of New York, and was greeted with obviously mingled feelings by the diners. Governor Edwards was not on the official list of speakers and was called upon unexpectedly after Secretary Daniels had concluded his address. Earlier in the evening the New Jersey executive had been given a striking ovation when he entered the dining hall and there was an even greater demonstration when he arose to speak.

Edwards Finds Great Issue
Governor Edwards declared that a great issue had emerged from the past "the issue of state rights and personal liberty." He asserted that this issue must be decided by the people next November.

"If the federal government," he continued, "may subvert the doctrines of state rights and without a commission or mandate from the people enter upon our firesides and into our homes with the bureaucratic system of office holders and overlordship, the theory of our constitutional government and all of the rights incident to home rule and local state government are destroyed."

"Under such a system the indestructible union of indestructible states becomes a myth and we have the necessary alternative of a great super-power at Washington, imposing its will upon us in the direction of our habits, our manners, our tastes and our local customs until nothing is left of the independent state of our fathers but the name."

"To me this situation is a political sacrilege and I purpose to carry the fight to San Francisco regardless of what any man or set of men may personally think so as to bring about a popular restatement of the doctrine of state rights and popular local home rule upon which our fathers founded this government."

Governor Smith's contribution to the prohibition issue was contained in a telegram expressing his regret that illness prevented his presence. In his telegram the New York executive said:

"Do not forget the time honored democratic doctrine that the government is most effective which governs the least. This precept of democratic faith in the recent past has been grievously and willfully sinned against when, in the name of democracy there was imposed upon 100,000,000 free people, without asking their direct consent, a restriction to their personal liberty which Prussia in her palmy days never dreamed of."

The name of Admiral Sims was introduced by John M. Riehl, the toastmaster at the conclusion of Secretary Daniels' address. The secretary had dwelt upon the great service performed by the North Sea mine barrage in putting an end to the German submarine menace and incidentally credited President Wilson with being the first American official to conceive the idea, Mr. Riehl before calling upon Governor Edwards as the next speaker said:

"Secretary Daniels spoke of the great barrage laid across the North Sea. I have just received a memorandum which shows that the only American officer who opposed the laying of that barrage was Admiral Sims." The mention of the admiral's name was the signal for considerable hissing and booing from the various parts of the dining hall.

Among the prominent democrats seated at the speaker's table were Charles B. Alexander president of the National Democratic Club; assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt; Mrs. Elizabeth B. Bass, chairman of the women's bureau of the national democratic committee and Mayor John F. Hyland.

THE PARIS CENSUS.

The taking of the census in Paris is practically completed and while the figures will not be given out for several months The News believes that there has been as nearly a complete count as it is humanly possible to make under the human equation entering into the work.

Certainly Supervisor Lindsay has done everything that could be expected and more than the letter of her duty required and The News is quite sure that she has also done this in all parts of the district of which she had charge. Secretary Bracken of chamber of commerce has also aided in every possible way and many citizens have interested themselves, as was perfectly proper and no more than their duty. All in all Paris will have no ground for complaint.

The News ventures the prediction that the figures will not be as large as some people had in mind some time ago, but they were people who expressed a wish rather than an opinion founded on study and observation of things. Such bases as school population, poll tax paying, city directory estimates and the like are valueless, especially in the case of Paris where the school district is many times as big as the city itself, and only the people actually living inside the corporation lines can be counted as inhabitants under the census.

Figures around fifteen thousand will be entirely satisfactory to The News and should be to any man who figures on the proposition. It is probable that we will have that and if so we can truthfully say to anyone who asks the population of Paris for business purposes that we have twenty thousand people who live here or near enough to do business here practically every day and may fairly be called part of our business population.

The building of sidewalks in Paris should go right along with street paving. While it is true that we have walks on many unpaved streets there are too many streets where people have to foot it in the mud.

If the demoralization of foreign exchange shall be the means of making the cost of living in United States come down it will be a blessing and the European countries will have to stand it.

BACK TALK

The Poll Tax Law.

For ten years past the newspapers of the State have conducted annual campaigns to induce men to qualify for suffrage by paying the requisite poll tax.

Not one of these campaigns has been quite successful. The recent campaign has been no exception, although it is indicated that there has been an increase over last year's payments.

The tax has served as an embargo upon suffrage for at least half the males of voting age, and this, with primary election system which in a State like Texas determines the personnel of the several branches of the government, will probably eventuate in a total vote not exceeding 30 per cent of the potential electorate in November.

There has never been any excuse for the limitations which have been placed upon suffrage in Texas. The fear of negro rule which led to suppressive measures in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana has never applied to Texas, but Texas followed them with stringent restrictions upon suffrage, until now minority rule is thoroughly established.

The poll tax requirements ought to be taken out of the constitution and the primary election law could well give way to party machinery more in consonance with our representative theory of government.

For Texas to return fewer than 1,000,000 male votes in a presidential election is a reflection upon her election machinery.—Houston Post.

One of the first predictions Back Talk made, when he began talking back was that the Texas poll tax law was slated for repeal at the next session of the Legislature. The poll tax law never was popular with the masses, and it never did fit nicely into the scheme of our government. It does seem, when you look at the matter from one angle, that every man ought to have interest enough in his country to contribute his mite to the support of his government, and yet Back Talk does not hesitate to say that the voting privilege should not in any sense be a matter of buying and selling. The poll tax served a good purpose in shutting the negroes off from the polls until the white people could put prohibition over. At least, Back Talk believes it served a good purpose in doing this. But from this time on the poll tax law will grow more and more unpopular as time goes on. More than likely the next Legislature will submit the repeal of this law to the people, and if it does a brutal majority will be rolled up against the practice of requiring the payment of poll tax before a person can exercise the right of suffrage. The Post is the first of the big papers to speak out in favor of the repeal of the poll tax law, but many others will join in the chorus for "free ballot" before the time for selecting representatives to the Legislature. And the fact that the women voters positively refuse to rush to the collectors office for poll tax receipts will assist materially in the overthrow of the poll tax law.

Fishing Time.

The fishing days are coming. We can feel them in our bones and almost smell the bait can. Oil up your reel and examine your line. We will soon be off to that hole where "the big one hung last year got away."—Bonham News.

When the red-buds hang their banners on the hillsides, and the dogwoods flower in the bottoms, and the fat earth worms begin to dare mankind by crawling on top of the earth, we know it is fishing time; and that time is not very far in the future. But I want to tell you that the fellow who has a reel to oil up will never come home with a decent string of fish, unless he buys them. The finny tribe are safe so long as their pursuers are the fellows that sport reels, silk lines, downyags, mechanical flies and other expensive fishing tackle. In days gone by this kind of fishing was all right, since most of the fishing was done in bottles, but under the later and better conditions the reel and downyag fellow must hunt other diversions. It's the man who wears baggy trousers, uses a snuff-bottle cork for a stayer and a bullet for a sinker, and who knows the art of spitting on his bait that comes in with the fish.

MRS. CLEMENT'S OPINION

To the Editor of The News: The citizens of Paris must wake up to the need of a good water supply. The money that has been expended on water is useless. Just stop and think of the money that has been spent on water and still we have mud to drink.

Any good citizen of Paris knows that there is but one way we can have good water and that is to pipe to Red, Kiamath and Oklahoma rivers. This is the only way on earth Paris can have good water.

So far as Mr. N. H. Ragland's suggestion at the Chamber of Commerce is concerned it is money wasted. As for making a dam on Pine creek for water it is something very expensive, and still we would not be certain to get good water. Your dams will wash away or break.

Now I hope that our good men will wake up to this fact and see to it that our money is not spent in a foolish way. I fully believe that a start should be made at once to supply our city with good water, and this is the only way we can have it. It is true it will cost some money, but it is the only sure route.

MRS. W. R. CLEMENT.

WOMEN SUBJECT

TO INCOME TAX.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 30.—Women who had incomes during 1919 are reminded by Collector of Internal Revenue A. S. Walker that they are subject to all of the provisions of the federal income tax. Many thousands of women file returns and pay taxes regularly, and there are new names added to this list each year. The high wages and salaries received by women last year will perhaps double the number of the fair sex who are required to file returns.

city, town, county and state employee, is not taxed on her salary or wages, but must file a return if her taxable income from other sources was sufficient in amount to come within the law's definitions.

An unmarried woman, a widow, or a married woman who is living apart from her husband, must file an income tax return if her net income for 1919 was $1,000 or over.

She is entitled to an exemption on the first $1,000 of her income. If she is the head of a family, as defined in the income tax regulations, she may claim $1,000 additional exemption. Also, she may claim further exemption of $200 for each person for whom she is the chief support, if the dependent is under 18, or is mentally or physically defective.

A married woman who has an income from a separate source than her husband is entitled to file a separate return with respect to that income. Ordinarily a husband and wife file one joint return, including the income of both. But if the husband does not include his wife's income, the wife is required to file her own return. Separate returns of husband and wife are required if either had a net income exceeding $5,000.

A married woman who lives with her husband is not allowed a prescribed exemption. She and her husband have $2,000 plus $200 addition for each dependent; and this exemption may be taken by either or divided in any manner between them. A woman who was widowed during 1919 may claim exemption for the full year, on the basis of her status as of December 31.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR

WEAK LINKS IN A STRONG CHAIN

That's just what imitation parts are when they become a part of your Ford car. They look strong enough, but the metal isn't there—the strong, durable Vanadium steel that goes into the Ford chassis and every Ford part. Ford parts are specially cast and heat treated, each according to its use. Some require a hard, flint-like wearing surface, others need resiliency, and some need just "toughness."

Ford metallurgists have been studying these problems for sixteen years and know just how each unit should be made to endure a maximum of wear and tear. They know that best results can be obtained only by the use of special formulas for different parts, and that honest Ford parts wear from thirty-five to one hundred per cent longer than counterfeits.

We carry complete assortments of genuine Ford parts for both passenger cars and trucks. And our garage is equipped to give careful, prompt Ford service—from minor adjustments to complete overhauls. Drive in, it's better to be safe than sorry. Come to the Authorized Ford dealer for service.

PARIS GIRLS TAKE HONORS AT AUSTIN

Austin, Feb. 5.—The honor list of the University of Texas for the fall term, as announced by the dean, contains the names of three students from Paris. Nearly 300 students attained the honors, which are calculated as follows: A counts for 12 points; B for 9; C for 6; D for 3. Grades in physical training do not count. Above 15 per cent of the students made 45 points which is equivalent to five B's; 11 per cent scored 48 points and above, which is equivalent to a succession of A's and B's, or straight A's. No student taking only five courses, the normal amount of work, can make the best one per cent. The different percentages classified as follows. The best one per cent, upperclassmen, 61 points and above; freshmen, 58 and above; the best two per cent, upperclassmen, 58 to 59, freshmen, 56 and 57; the best three per cent, upperclassmen, 57 points, freshmen, 54 and 55; the best five per cent, upperclassmen, 53 to 56, freshmen, 48 to 53; the best eight per cent, upperclassmen, 49 to 52, freshmen, 44 to 47; the best eleven per cent, upperclassmen 48, freshmen 42 and 44. For example, if an upperclassman made in his five courses 4 A's and one B, he would score 57 points, thus placing him in the best 3 per cent.

The students from Paris are, Treysa Margaret Scott, among the best three per cent; Dorothy Broad and Margaret Frances Dohoney, among the best eleven per cent.

DEATH OF REMARKABLE YOUNG MAN AT PETTY

Clyde Thompson, the son of W. H. Thompson, a well known citizen of Petty, died Wednesday night at the home of his parents of pneumonia following influenza. He was twenty-nine years old and during the last nineteen years of his life he was a cripple and an invalid, being bed-ridden all of that time. Notwithstanding the cheerless prospect that life held out for him he was a young man of sublime character and his cheerful resignation to his fate won the sympathy and kind attention from everybody. He entertained a great many visitors.

The funeral service was held at his late home yesterday after which the remains were taken to Honey Grove for burial. A visitor from Petty who came to Paris on the morning train stated that it was understood that the stores were to be closed during the hour of the funeral.

Dr. Ben M. Edwards of Paris who conducted the funeral at the residence and went with the funeral party to Honey Grove, stated that the schools were closed at Petty, as well as the stores, and that another large crowd gathered at the grave at Honey Grove. There was a great mass of beautiful floral tributes heaped on the casket and the grave. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. J. H. Mann, who recently moved to Paris.

He characterized the sixty-eighth congress as "the most melancholy failure in legislative history."

"As for holding the Wilson administration to an account for its stewardship," Chairman Cummings said, "ninety-two investigations set on foot at enormous cost have produced nothing that was worth the expenditure of a dollar, except to demonstrate that this war has been fought out to a successful conclusion driven again into war and we shall without scandal or fraud, or graft."

GERMANY UP AGAINST HARD PROPOSITION IS TRYING TO WIGGLE OUT

London, Feb. 5. (P)—The foreign affairs committee of the national assembly will meet Saturday with the party leaders to decide whether to convene the assembly says a wireless message from Berlin. This action is in connection with the complications arising out of the extradition proceedings.

Chancellor Bauer in a statement to the press today said: "Germany finds herself in a critical position similar to that when confronted with the question whether she would sign the peace treaty or not. Then as now the government tried to reject the so-called clauses of honor."

"A majority of the assembly voted in favor of signing the treaty on June 22 1918, presuming that these clauses would not become effective. Their efforts were unsuccessful and under pressure of the threatened occupation of Germany they resolved to accept the treaty in its entirety."

"There was no lack of a sense of national honor. It was known that France longed for an opportunity for her troops to enter Germany for the purpose of separating the north and the south. It was an act of self-preservation that we did not hesitate to sign."

Meanwhile we left no stone unturned to procure a satisfactory solution of the question relating to handing over the persons demanded, and we have done our utmost to convince the entente that we are expected to do what no government, though animated by the best good will would comply with. In a discussion with the representatives of the entente our standpoint was fully appreciated in America and Japan and by England's official representatives but not by the official representatives of France.

"We tried to get the list and the charges against those named before the ratification of the peace treaty so that we ourselves might take proceedings against them. Our request was refused and our attempt to establish a state court was frustrated."

"Our standpoint was explained in the note of January 5 and we again emphasize it. But we shall strictly avoid any provocation."

"For this reason the government regrets that Baron Von Lersner refused to forward the entente note. In any such action the interests of the whole nation must be decisive and not the honor of a single individual."

WILDE WON'T FIGHT FOR MEASLEY SUM OF $7,500

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 5. (P)—Dave Hughes, backer for Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion of the world, today denied that Wilde had signed to meet Frankie Mason for the flyweight championship at Toledo, Ohio. "Toledo has offered us a $7,500 guarantee, said Hughes. "It must be $10,000 or there will be no fight."

LITTLE ROCK FORBIDS PUBLIC ASSEMBLIES

Little Rock, Feb. 5. (P)—A rigid quarantine as a measure to prevent the further spread of influenza in Little Rock was declared tonight by the city board of health. The order closes all schools, theatres, pool halls, churches, all places of amusement and forbids all public gatherings.

The action was taken upon the advice of physicians who reported 126 new cases in Little Rock today. At the office of the state board of health 543 new cases were reported in the state today.

SOCIALISM ALL THINGS TO ALL MEN TESTIMONY AT HEARING INDICATES

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5. (P)—Peter W. Collins of Boston, a Knight of Columbus worker, was recalled to the stand at today's session of the trial of the five suspended socialist assemblymen to support a claim by the prosecution that the socialist party was dominated by aliens. This claim was the basis of a charge that socialist public officials were controlled by dues-paying aliens through resignations after they had been nominated. Earlier in the trial Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady had testified that prior to being expelled from the socialist party, he once had signed such a resignation.

When adjournment was taken until next Tuesday, the prosecution at the end of the third week had virtually closed its case.

Mr. Collins, who previously had qualified as an expert on labor and socialism, was the day's only witness. In cross-examination the defense sought to show Collins was employed by a "secret society" fighting socialism; that he was prejudiced in favor of trade unionism as opposed to socialism and that he lacked knowledge of socialism and the socialist party.

Having made the "conservative" estimate that at least seventy percent of the socialist party members were aliens Mr. Collins said that through the resignation clause in the party constitution the "socialist party is actually a government within a government determining how its members shall act in public places."

He quoted Morris Hillquit, chief counsel for the defense as declaring

GOVERNOR ROBERTSON IS ONE GOOD DEMOCRAT

Muskogee, Okla., Feb. 5. (P)—Governor J. B. A. Robertson announced tonight that pursuant to the action of the state democratic convention, he would call a special session of the legislature to ratify the woman suffrage amendment.

The governor said he would not fix the date for the session until after he had conferred with state officials in Oklahoma City.

The convention overwhelmingly adopted a resolution requesting the governor to call a special session.

publicly that "ninety-nine percent of all socialists who know what socialism is are atheists or agnostics, but we cannot go before the public with that declaration."

Asked by Chairman Martin to differentiate between communists, I. W. W., left wing socialists, radical socialists and "I guess socialists," Mr. Collins quoted Victor L. Berger as saying there were many roads to socialism "but only one variety of socialism."

"They have their different varieties of socialists for the purpose of getting wherewithal to drive home socialism and make socialists," he continued. "It is the most scientific system of deception in the world, because it wants to make a thousand different people believe that it stands for a thousand different things."

LIQUOR MAY BE USED IN COOKING UP IN NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 5. (P)—Charles R. O'Connor, state federal prohibition agent, announced tonight that alcoholic liquors may be used for cooking purposes without violation of the law. Mr. O'Connor said:

"New Yorkers have no need to do without brandy in their mince pie or wine sauce on their puddings as permits will be issued hotels and restaurants to keep a stock of brandy and wine or whiskey on hand for legitimate culinary purposes."

Mr. O'Connor today opened a suite of offices for the issuance of permits to those entitled to alcoholic liquors under the Volstead act.

Washington, Feb. 5. (P)—Officials of the railroad administration and union leaders conferring here on wage demands of the railroad employees expressed hope tonight that another day would bring a crystallization of argument on both sides. No one would say positively that a settlement would be effected tomorrow but all were optimistic.

OKLAHOMA DEMOCRATS INSTRUCT DELGATES FOR OWEN TO THE END

Muskogee, Okla., Feb. 5. (P)—Forty delegates with a half a vote each were elected to the national democratic convention at San Francisco, pledged to support Senator Robert L. Owen for the democratic presidential nomination "until he is either nominated or releases them from further support" at the state democratic convention which had adjourned here tonight.

The convention almost unanimously adopted a resolution asking Governor J. B. A. Robertson to call a special session of the state legislature for the purpose of ratifying the constitutional woman suffrage amendment.

Addressing the convention here today Senator Owen formally launched his presidential candidacy when he declared "my hat is in the ring" and that he was in the race to the end.

Among the planks of his platform are repeal of the excise profits tax the return to private ownership of the railroads, the enactment of a corrupt practice act to prevent the use of large sums of money in elections, reduction of the high cost of living by use of the powers of the federal reserve board to fix and stabilize per capita wealth of the country, adoption of a national budget system, enactment of a law that would permit labor to participate in profits due to their toil, and to extend payment of the war debt over a period of fifty years.

By resolution Owens' candidacy was endorsed, as was the administration of President Wilson and Governor Robertson. The resolution denounced all opponents of the league of nations and demanded a quick ratification of the covenant as President Wilson desires it.

By a motion adopted by the convention a committee of five, with the approval of Senator Owen, is to name twenty of the delegates to the national convention. The committee to select the delegates is composed of Governor Robertson, Oklahoma City; Dr. J. W. Duke, Guthrie; Hubert L. Bolen, Oklahoma City; D. H. Linebaugh, Tulsa; Mrs. W. W. Gilbert, Muskogee.

George Bowman of Kingfisher was elected democratic national committeeman from Oklahoma to succeed Tom L. Wade of Marlow. Wade withdrew from the race in favor of Bowman.

Each of the eight congressional districts at caucuses elected two delegates to the national convention as follows:

First: Howard Weber, Bartlesville; Mrs. Usher Carson, Miami.
Second: W. H. Harrower, Muskogee; J. A. Jarman, Salisaw.
Third: H. H. Brown, Ardmore; Will Utterback, Durant.
Fourth: Tom Anglin, Holdenville; John W. Jones, Shawnee.
Fifth: C. B. Ames, Oklahoma City; Paul Winterstein, Stillwater.
Sixth: D. W. Boyer Walters, Mrs. L. H. Rhodes El Reno.
Seventh: Charles Penn Weatherford; A. J. S. Shaw, Altus.
Eighth: Mrs. Frank Lucas, Ponca City; Judge R. L. Louborough, Beaver.

FARMER NEAR ROXTON EXPIRES SUDDENLY

W. J. Merritt a well known farmer who lived 2½ miles southwest of Roxton, died suddenly at his home early yesterday morning. He had no family living with him and was staying alone, but a negro man and his wife lived on the premises and looked after the house and farm.

He had been staying in Paris most of the time the past few weeks. He arose at his accustomed time and ate a hearty breakfast, seemingly in his usual health.

After eating breakfast he sat down before the hearth and put a few of tobacco in his mouth, but almost immediately removed it, stating that it made him sick. He called to the negro woman in the kitchen to summon her husband to his assistance, telling her that he had an awful pain in his chest. Just as the negro man reached the door he expired. He was dead in less than five minutes after complaining of his chest hurting him.

He was born in Illinois and was about sixty-five years old. He had been living in the Roxton community about fifty years, during which time he accumulated considerable property, including two or three valuable black land farms. He had been basing from the heirs the old Holcomb farm and paid for it the day before he died. He also owned property in Paris.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Page, who lives in Western Texas, and also leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Bullington of Roxton and Mrs. James Bright of Trent, Taylor county. The date for the funeral will not be fixed until the daughter and sister in Western Texas are heard from.

EXHIBIT OF RESULTS GETS BUSINESS

The persistence of many persons in their demand to be shown real, tangible results, before putting their hard cash into an experiment, is being daily overcome by the jam-up, spick and span refitting jobs being turned out of our big, modern automobile paint shop. Many of these transformations are similar to a man's change from overalls to full evening dress. And the cost is very nominal, compared to real value and attractiveness. In this department we also do the highest grade upholstery, retooling, repairing putting plate glass in curtains, etc.

And that other all-important feature of automobile maintenance—dependable repainting—is amply carried on by our force of skilled workmen, in a shop fitted with modern facilities.

Our new year resolutions included a fixed determination to meet every demand of the automobile public—and we are doing it. Let us prove this to you. Phone 1138.

ILLINOIS DOCTOR NOW PRESCRIBING TANLAC

Dr. B. H. Elder, with offices at 410 Shradski building, Peoria, Ill., who has been in active practice for over forty years, says:

"Medical science has never before produced a medicine that brings results like Tanlac. I have been prescribing it some time with remarkable results. Personally I had suffered for years from stomach trouble and rheumatism and had devoted my best thought trying to find relief but to no avail. After eating gas would form in my stomach and affect my heart, causing poor circulation, cold hands and feet, dizziness, peculiar feelings, terrible headaches and cramps. The rheumatism pained me so I could hardly stand to move my legs or arms."

"I had a patient who had also suffered for years with the same trouble as mine and although I did all I could for him he got no better. One day, after he had been away for about six months, he came to my office and never in my life have I seen a man look better or seem to feel better than he did. He told me Tanlac was what had brought about the wonderful change. I began trying the medicine at once with result that a few bottles relieved me. Although I am an extra hearty eater nothing ever disagrees with me any more. I have prescribed Tanlac in cases of rheumatism, kidney and bladder disorders and a run down condition with wonderful results, and I feel that I ought to give my experience with Tanlac to the public for the benefit of suffering humanity."

All druggists sell Tanlac.

MEN BECOME HOUSE

MAIDS IN CHICAGO

Y. W. C. A. HOSTELRY.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Men supplanted maids as house servants at the Young Women's Christian Association hotel here today. A shortage of housemaids forced employment of men, said Mrs. J. M. Sharp, a matron of the hotel, who declared the substitution proved very satisfactory.

Mrs. Sharp expressed the opinion that general substitution of housemen for housemaids is the only solution of the servant problem and added:

"I got 15 replies within 24 hours in answer to an advertisement for housemen, but not one replied to an advertisement for housemaids. A friend of mine employs a Japanese as lady's maid to do her hair, hook her up and take care of her clothes. It is no more difficult to break in a man to do housework than a green girl, and he can do more work."

Mrs. Sharp said housemen could be employed for the same wages as housemaids.

DRY LAWS COMPEL NEW YORKERS TO RAISE CLUB DUES

New York, Feb. 3.—Many of New York's prominent clubs have raised their dues because of the increased cost of food, rent and employees. It was learned today. Loss of revenue due to prohibition also caused some clubs to increase annual dues. Some clubs have decided to meet the heavier costs by higher initiation fees and holding drives for new members. Among the organizations advancing dues are the Columbia University club and Player's club.

NOSE WAS BROKEN IN COLLISION WITH DOG

While J. R. Parker, living near the city lake, was in his field plowing Wednesday afternoon some dogs that had accompanied him jumped a rabbit and chased it under the barn of W. W. Miller, a neighbor. Mr. Miller went out to assist the dogs in getting it out from under the barn. It ran out on his side while he was stooping over to punch with a stick, and just as it emerged a big bulldog rushed forward to nab it and collided with Mr. Miller's head, striking against his nose with great force and crushing the bone in on one side. Will Young brought him to town to have the injury attended to by a specialist.

BRANDIED FRUITS NO VIOLATION OF PROHIBITION LAW

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Grocers here are set for the grand rush. Brandied fruit, no matter how high the percentage of alcohol, do not come within the meaning of the prohibition amendment, the office of the prohibition commissioner here ruled today.

This ruling came as the result of an inquiry growing out of the sudden popularity of brandied cherries.

ugs and plums here. The fruit was put up in California some months ago, and stood more or less unnoticed on the shelves of groceries until somebody discovered the kick. Within a week the good news spread to such advantage that the grocers were looking for more supplies today.

"The prohibition law bans all beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol," said Jesse R. Brown, assistant prohibition commissioner here today. Obviously a food is not a beverage, and we are not concerned with how big a kick may be in any food. Let them eat their brandy if they like; our business is to keep them from drinking it."

FORT WORTH MAY CLAMP LID DOWN TIGHT ON SUNDAY.

Fort Worth, Feb. 3.—Threatened insistence upon a full and complete enforcement of the Sunday closing laws in the event that the theaters are closed as urged by the pastors' association contained in an open letter to the city and county authorities made public Saturday.

The letter is signed by Dr. Guy O. Shirey, as chairman of the "One Hundred Per Cent Sunday Law Enforcement Legion" and enumerates twenty-two lines of business and industry, which, it declares, can not operate on Sunday if the law is enforced.

Simultaneously with the issuance of the letter petitions asking the public to join the Legion were placed in circulation throughout the city.

Build This Year Lumber Isn't Always Just Lumber

Some folks have the idea that all lumber is just lumber; that a plank that can be sawed and nailed is the same the world over; and that materials from one lumber yard are just as good as those from any other lumber yard.

But this is an old and erroneous idea.

Now-a-days, to the experienced builder, lumber is just like all merchandise. He knows that there is good and bad lumber, and that service, the all important factor in business today, can be efficient and satisfying or that it can be inefficient and disappointing.

Supplying lumber and building materials of known quality and value with a service that has satisfied 26 different localities for 26 years has built a name in the building world that can always be relied on.

Even the most inexperienced builder can order materials from the Clem Lumber Company without the slightest anxiety as to the quality or the service he gets.

LEARN TO OPERATE A LINOTYPE OR INTERTYPE.
The Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association has established a school for teaching typesetting on the linotype and intertype machines. Apprentices in the printing trade and ambitious young men should write for literature. The trade that helped to develop Benjamin Franklin into a master mind is worthy of careful consideration.
For advice apply to the publisher of The Paris News and in the meantime send for literature, addressing,

Macon, Georgia.

GERMANY SURPRISED AT LIST OF "WANTED"
Berlin, Feb. 4. (AP)—The Tageblatt says the list of persons demanded by the allies from Germany surpasses anything which even the greatest pessimists had considered possible.
"One now realizes," it adds, "what tremendous stupidity it was to offer to sign a peace treaty the terms of which were impossible to execute."

CHICAGO POLICE ARE EXPECTING VENDETTA
OVER ENRIGHT MURDER
Chicago, Feb. 4. (AP)—The murder of Maurice Enright, labor feudist and the last of four notorious Chicago gun men, whose body was riddled with dum dum bullets from a sawed off shot gun in front of his home last night, remained an unsolved mystery tonight.
More than two score of suspects were taken in a police round up last night and today, many of them known to have opposed Enright in the numerous labor wars.
While the haunts of other suspected gun men were searched tonight the police also were making efforts to avert a gunman's war.
"The labor gangs settle their own disputes in their own way," Chief of Police Garrity said. "They have been after Enright for a long time and now that they have got him his friends are going to take up this job of paying back."
Among persons questioned today were "Big Tim" Murphy, principal in a labor war with Enright over the organization of gas house employes and Mike Carozzo, president of the street sweepers union, Murphy was grilled several hours by State's Attorney Hoyne, but later was released.

Too Much Tobacco
After Forty-five Suicidal, Says Doctor
Immoderate use of tobacco after forty-five is suicidal, says Dr. Hirschfeld, eminent medical author, and other doctors agree with him. Excessive use of tobacco is bad for anyone, any time, and how much you can stand can only be told after it is too late if you have used too much. Better to quit, and here Nicotol will help you. Get a few Nicotol tablets from any druggist and let them drive the craving from you. If you want to resume after seeing how much better you feel without tobacco you can do so at any time. Nicotol is sold under a positive money-back guarantee. It costs you little to quit and nothing if Nicotol fails.
Note: If you know you are smoking too much let Nicotol help you reduce the quantity and show you how easy it is to quit altogether. Ask your druggist about the success of Nicotol. He knows and can be trust-

BIG BEND RESIDENTS
TELL SENATORS ABOUT
MEXICAN OUTRAGES

El Paso, Feb. 5. (AP)—United States customs inspectors, Texas rangers and civilian residents of the Big Bend district told the senate subcommittee investigating the Mexican situation today conditions along that stretch of the Rio Grande were such that it must, in the end, be abandoned by Americans unless more adequate protection is afforded.

That Chico Cano played a dual role in border conditions was indicated by the testimony of the customs inspectors. Cano had been referred to by other witnesses as a leader of bandits.

Sergeant H. H. King of the ranger force told of a raid on the Baldwin store last month which he declared had been engineered by Cano. He and the customs inspectors said that Cano was at the military headquarters of Mexico in that district, to receive his pay.

The Baldwin raid, Sergeant King said, was January 21, 1919.

He insisted there never had been a case so far as he knew, in which the Mexican authorities had cooperated in the maintenance of order.

along the frontier.
"On the contrary," he added, "whenever one of the raiders gets across the river it is as if he had found sanctuary in his own country."

All the witnesses added to the record of outlawry, stories of violent conflict between the raiders and American soldiers, customs inspectors and residents. These were supplemented by tales of atrocities that marked almost every incursion where opposition by the Americans was offered.

F. Tigner, a cattlemen of the Big Bend district who corroborated testimony of the government officials, said he sold his property because of the apparent impossibility of adequate protection.

READY TO STRIKE AND ONLY WAITING WORD OF
WASHINGTON MEETING

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 5. (AP)—Little hope of a satisfactory adjustment with railroad administration officials of wage demands which would avert a strike of 300,000 members of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way and Railway Shop Laborers was expressed tonight by officers of the organization in conference here.

The conference, called with the announced purpose of ordering a strike if wage increases averaging forty per cent. are not granted, opened this afternoon. It will continue, it was indicated, until definite announcement is forthcoming from the Washington conferences between Director General Hines and representatives of the various railroad brotherhoods.

RE-SHIPING COTTON IS OF LITTLE CONSEQUENCE

Liverpool, Feb. 5. (AP)—F. W. Cook, former president of the Cotton Exchange said today that although cotton of a certain grade was to be sent back to the United States it was not expected that a great volume of the stocks on hand would be returned. There would probably be considerable export business to continental cotton using countries, he added.

"In this country and on the seas," Mr. Cook said, "there is sufficient cotton not only to keep the Lancashire mills going for six months but to supply all the needs of North Europe."

WILL LEAP YEAR
RIGHTS OF WOMEN
BE MADE PERMANENT.

London, Feb. 3.—Of course women should have the right to propose. They should have that right not only during leap year, but in any other year. Having that right, or maintaining that they have it, it is more likely than not that their march toward the new freedom will win full recognition of the new plank in their platform.

These are some of the conclusions from the discussion of leap year with which the year 1920 has opened in London. The Evening News "views it with alarm."

"Since last year," says the News, "women have acquired the vote, and a woman sits in Parliament."

"Will the emancipated sex make a combined onslaught on the more valuable of man's remaining prerogatives and leave him with nothing but the second—that of paying jointly incurred bills?"

The paragraph, possibly, was written by a mere man.

Opinions Differ.
The testimony of the women on the right of proposing differs with the interviewed.

"Nowadays men seem to be so shy that it will become necessary," says Miss Chirley Kellogg, musical comedy star and wife of Albert DeCourville, the star producer. "But shy men make the best husbands."

"Certainly not," says "Olivette," a woman writer. "For women it disposes of all the romance of marriage and robs them of their most effective taunt, 'Well, You chose me, old dear.'"

And from Miss Dosamond Smith, treasurer of the Society for Equal Citizenship:

"Many women will feel different about proposing, but there is no reason why a woman should not put the question."

It is really rather unfair that men should always suffer the humiliation of being refused."

"There should be an equality between men and women," says Miss Underwood, secretary of the Women's Freedom League. "and as women are becoming more and more independent economically, why should not they propose—and not only in leap year but in any other year?"

"Certainly not!" says the Hon. Mrs. Dennis Dyndham, daughter of Lord Incheape and a well-known film actress. "If a man had any gallantry he could not refuse if a woman proposed to him, and a marriage under such circumstances could only lead to disaster."

Mrs. Gertie Wentworth-James, the authoress, wins for original mental research into the subject.

"Women who do men's work," she says, "and earn men's incomes should have men's privileges. Therefore, if they wish to propose they should do so."

"All the same if a man wants a woman he will ask her. If he doesn't I shere any satisfaction in trying to make him think he does by suggesting that he should become her husband?"

"Also, the flattering pleasure of being wanted is surely one of the great compensations for being a woman—and if we propose we miss all those sweet assurances which are as much a feminine need as chocolates, silk stockings and scent."
